SPE Denver Section

I hope this note finds you in good health. In these unprecedented times, we are reminded of the most important things, including health, family, and community. With things continuing to evolve with the COVID-19 pandemic here in Colorado, our Denver Section Society of Petroleum Engineers is committed to our safety first and foremost. As such, we are following state guidance on canceling all events in April and the first half of May. Please follow on

In the meantime, we encourage our Denver Section members that now is a great time to check out the online resources that come with your Society of Petroleum Engineers membership. Here are two recommendations to get your feet wet:

- SPE International has a vast library of webinars, including Distinguished Lecture speakers, training on negotiation, and everything else you might imagine. New live events every week- free for members. <https://webevents.spe.org/>
- SPE Connect is a forum of your international peers. There are a wide variety of technical specialties from Data Analytics to Facilities Engineering. Post your questions from your job and get input from peers and experts from around the world. <https://connect.spe.org/>

Our section volunteers are working on re-tooling some of our previously planned study groups as online calls. If you have any ideas for how we can help continue helping connect you with community and information in these time (abiding by social distancing standards) feel free to reach out to us on Facebook, linked in or at our email address – DenverSection@spemail.org

Regards and Good Health,
Kelly Wingard
